Wedding Cost Analysis

By Atharvi Babhare
CODON’S TECHNOLOGY

CODON’S

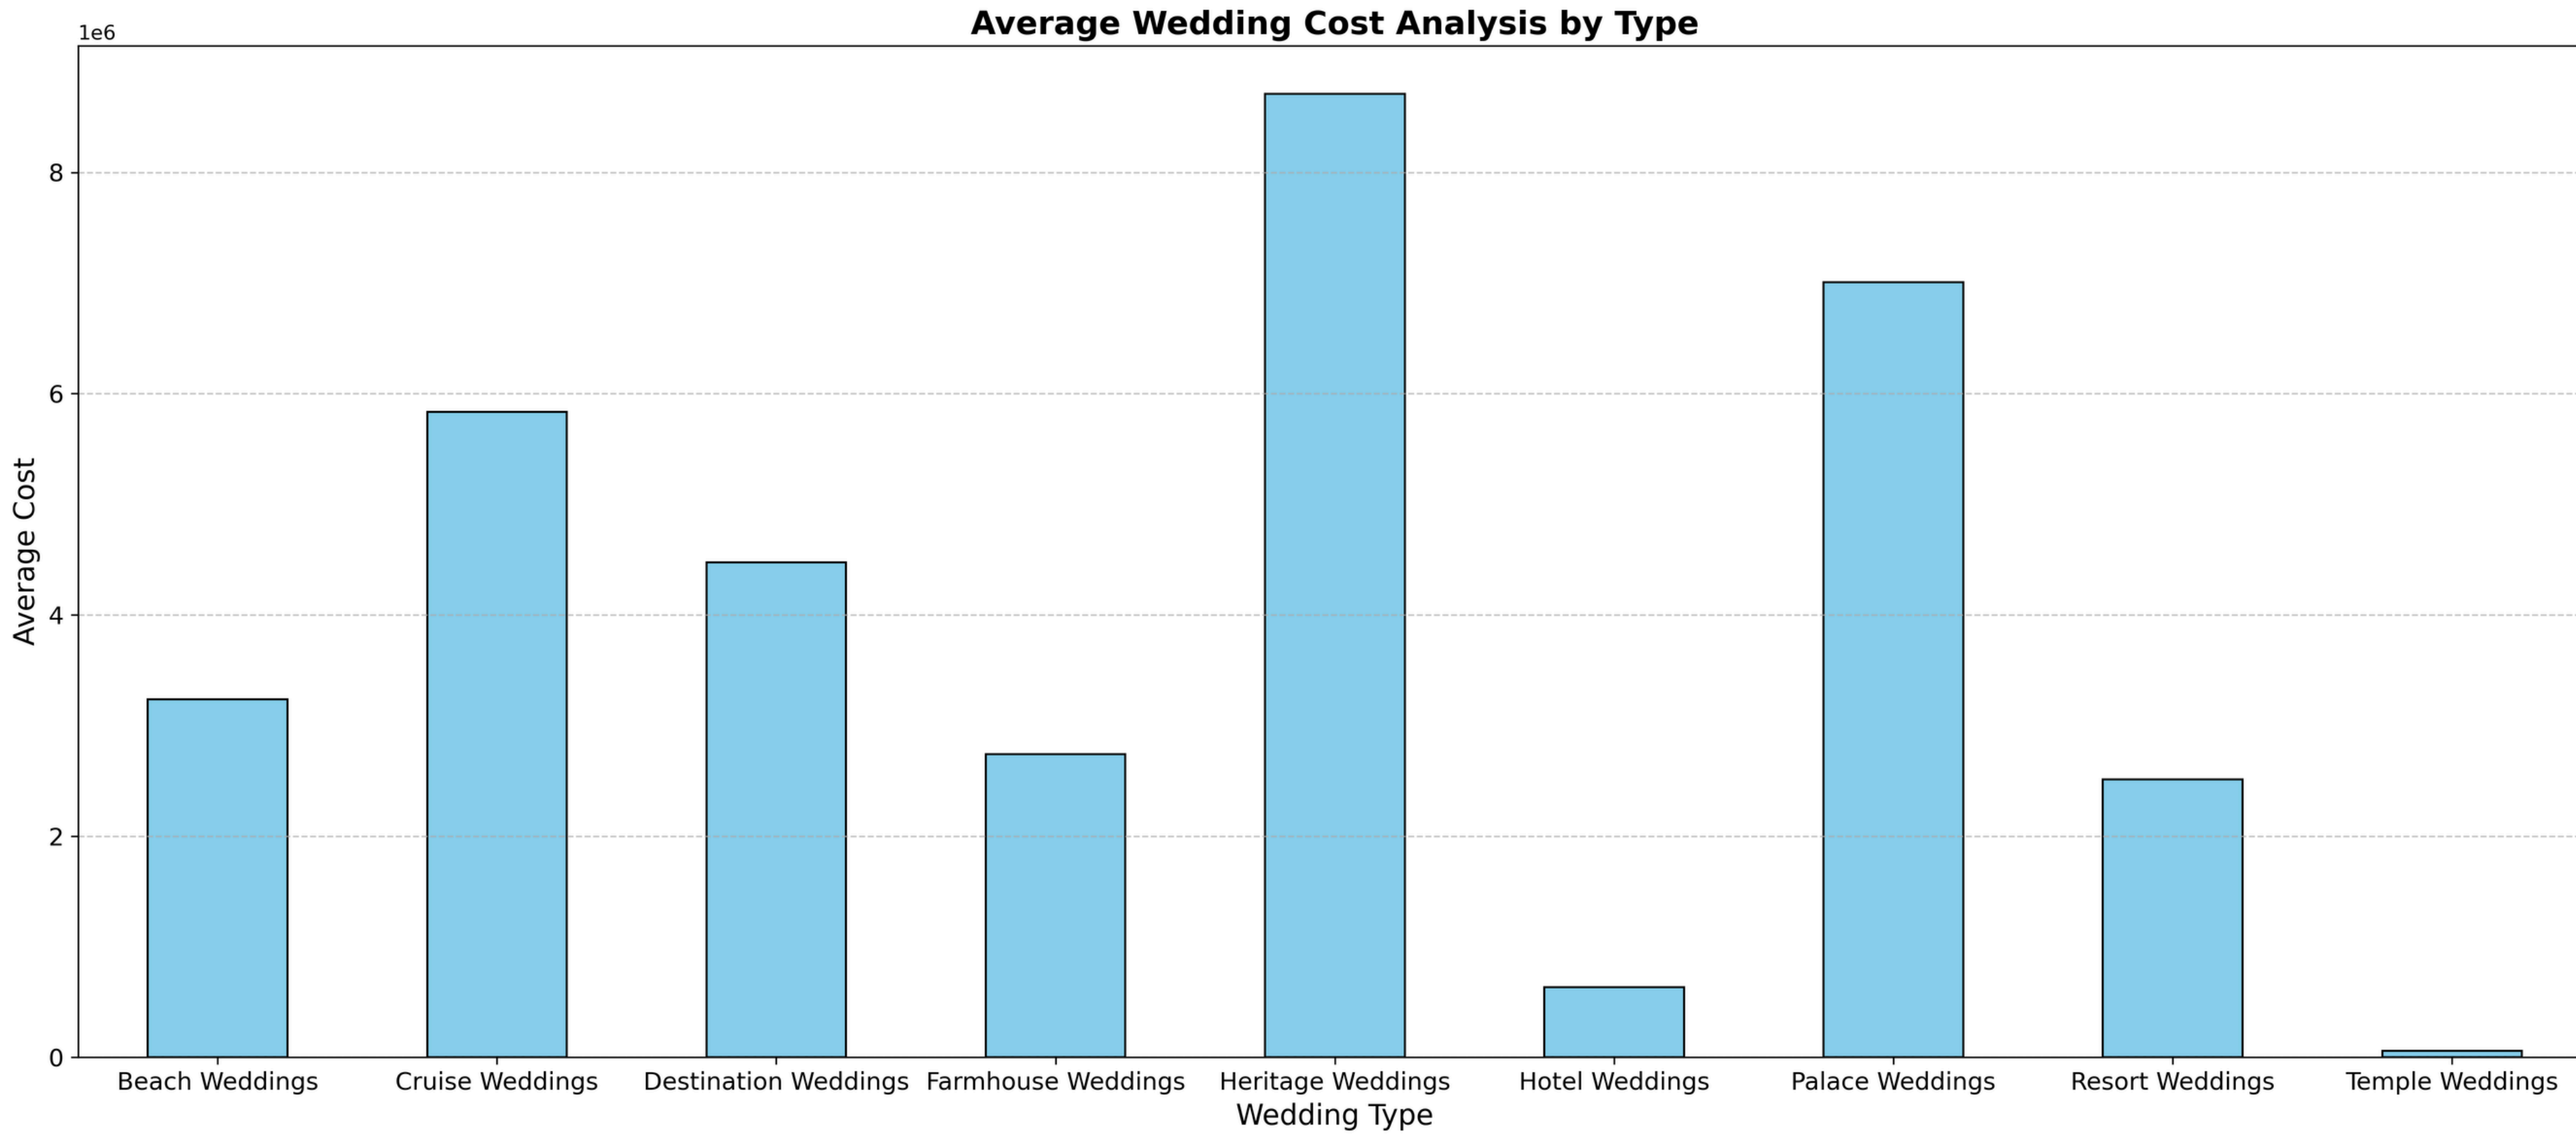
Why Wedding Cost Analysis Matters??

- Wedding planning involves multiple cost components such as venue, decor, entertainment, catering, and invitations, which together form the overall budget. These costs vary depending on wedding type, location, and preferences.

- Analyzing wedding expenses helps in better budget planning, cost comparison, and informed decision-making, allowing individuals to choose options that match their budget while maintaining desired quality and experience.

CODON'S

Average Wedding Cost Analysis By Type



- Heritage Weddings have the highest average cost, indicating a preference for luxury and premium experiences.

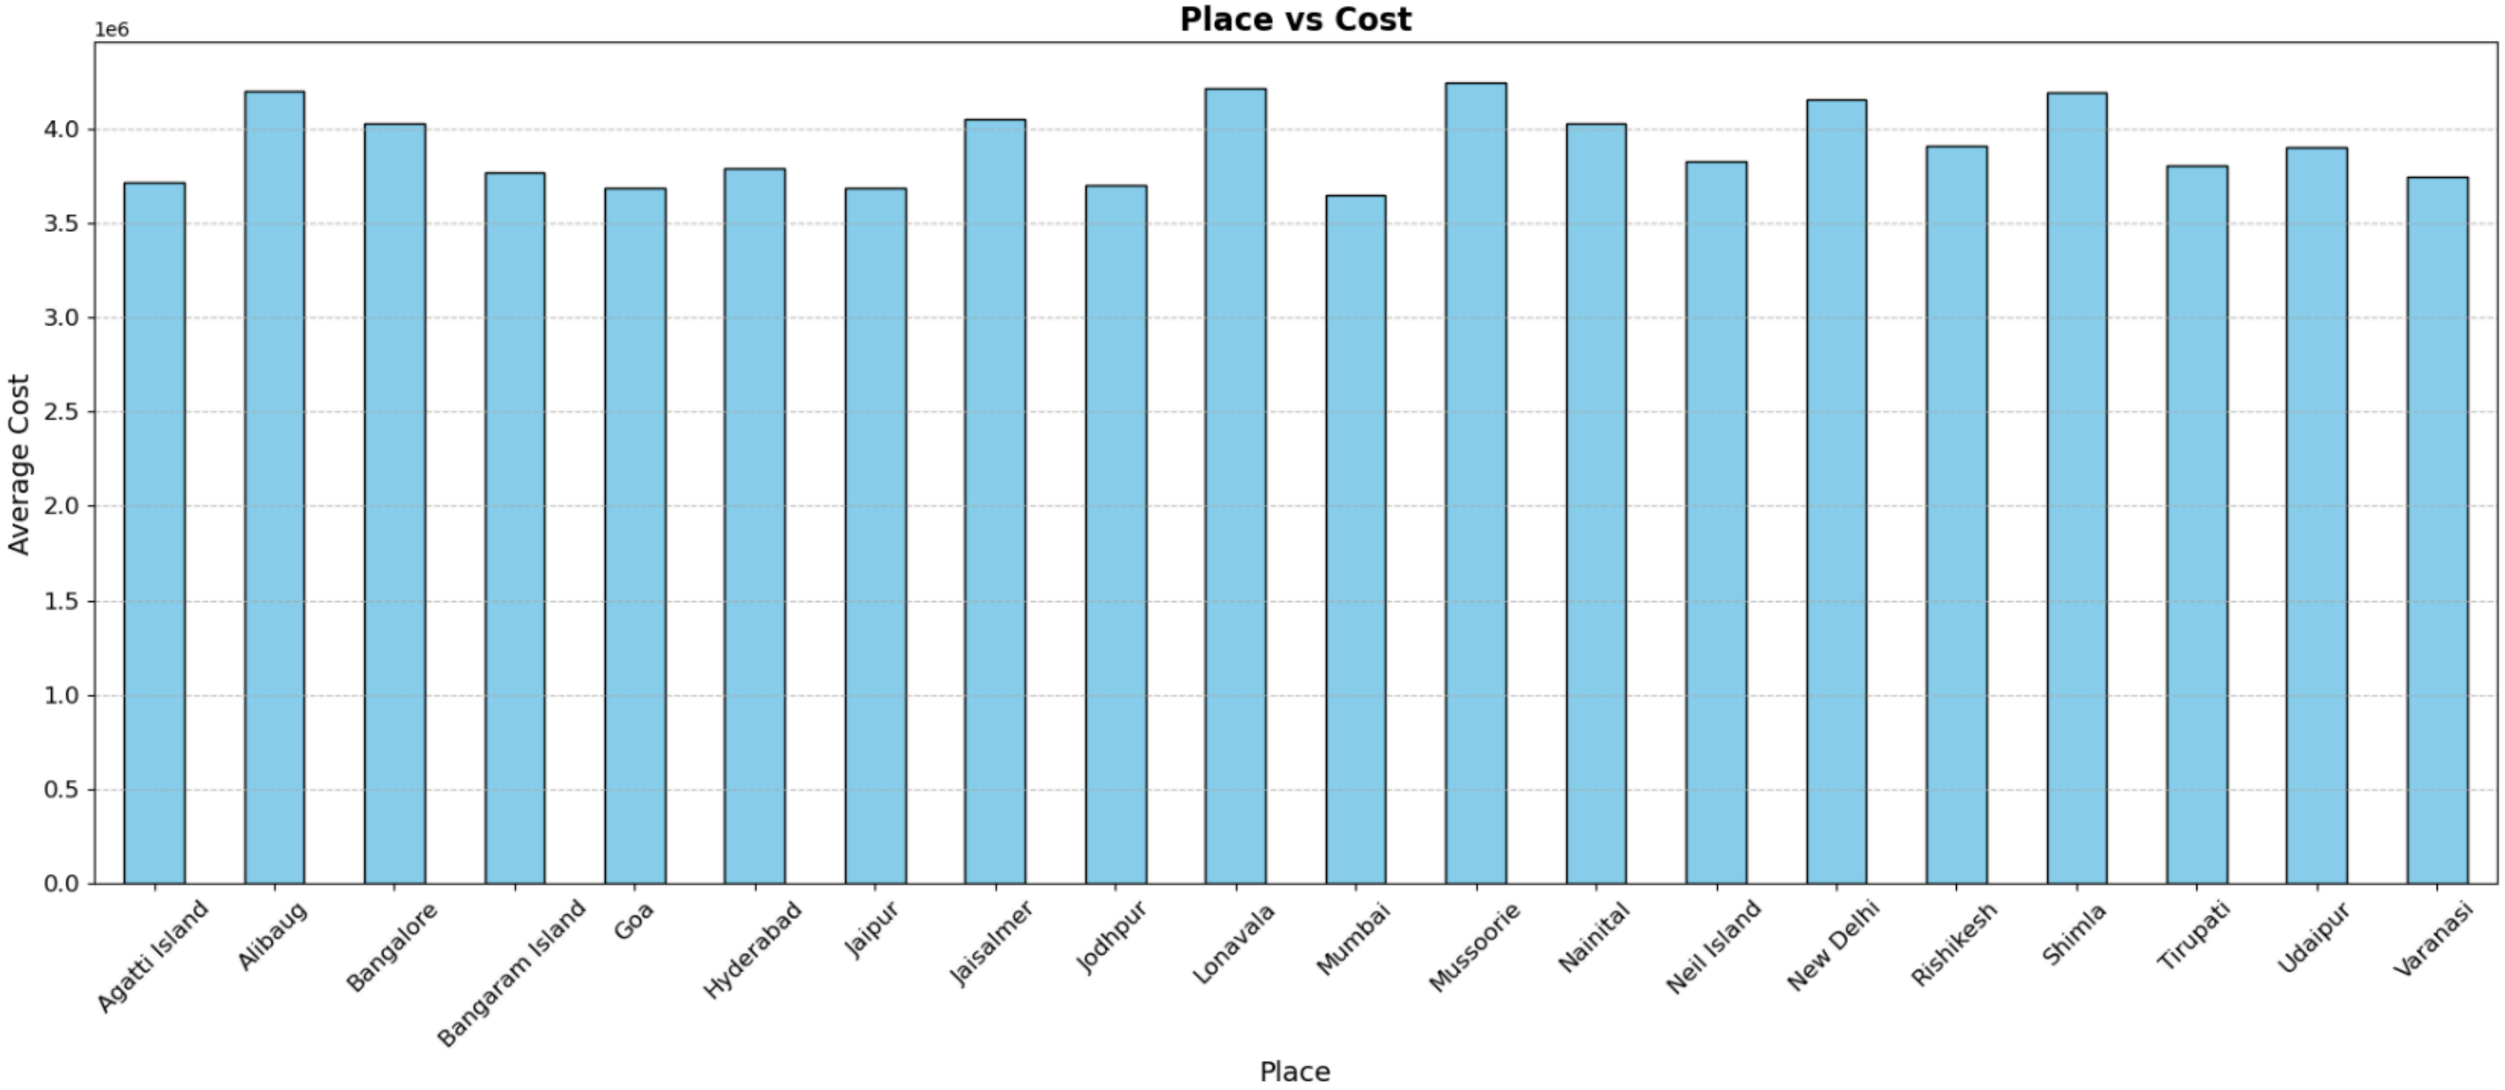
- Palace and Cruise Weddings also show high costs, reflecting destination and high-end wedding trends.

- Temple and Hotel Weddings are the most budget-friendly options with the lowest average costs.

- Overall, wedding cost increases with the level of luxury and exclusivity of the wedding type.

CODON'S

Average Wedding Cost Analysis by Location



- Wedding costs are relatively consistent across most locations, generally ranging between 3.6M to 4.3M, indicating a stable pricing trend.

- Locations like Mussoorie, Shimla, Lonavala, and Alibaug show slightly higher average costs, suggesting their popularity as premium or destination wedding spots.

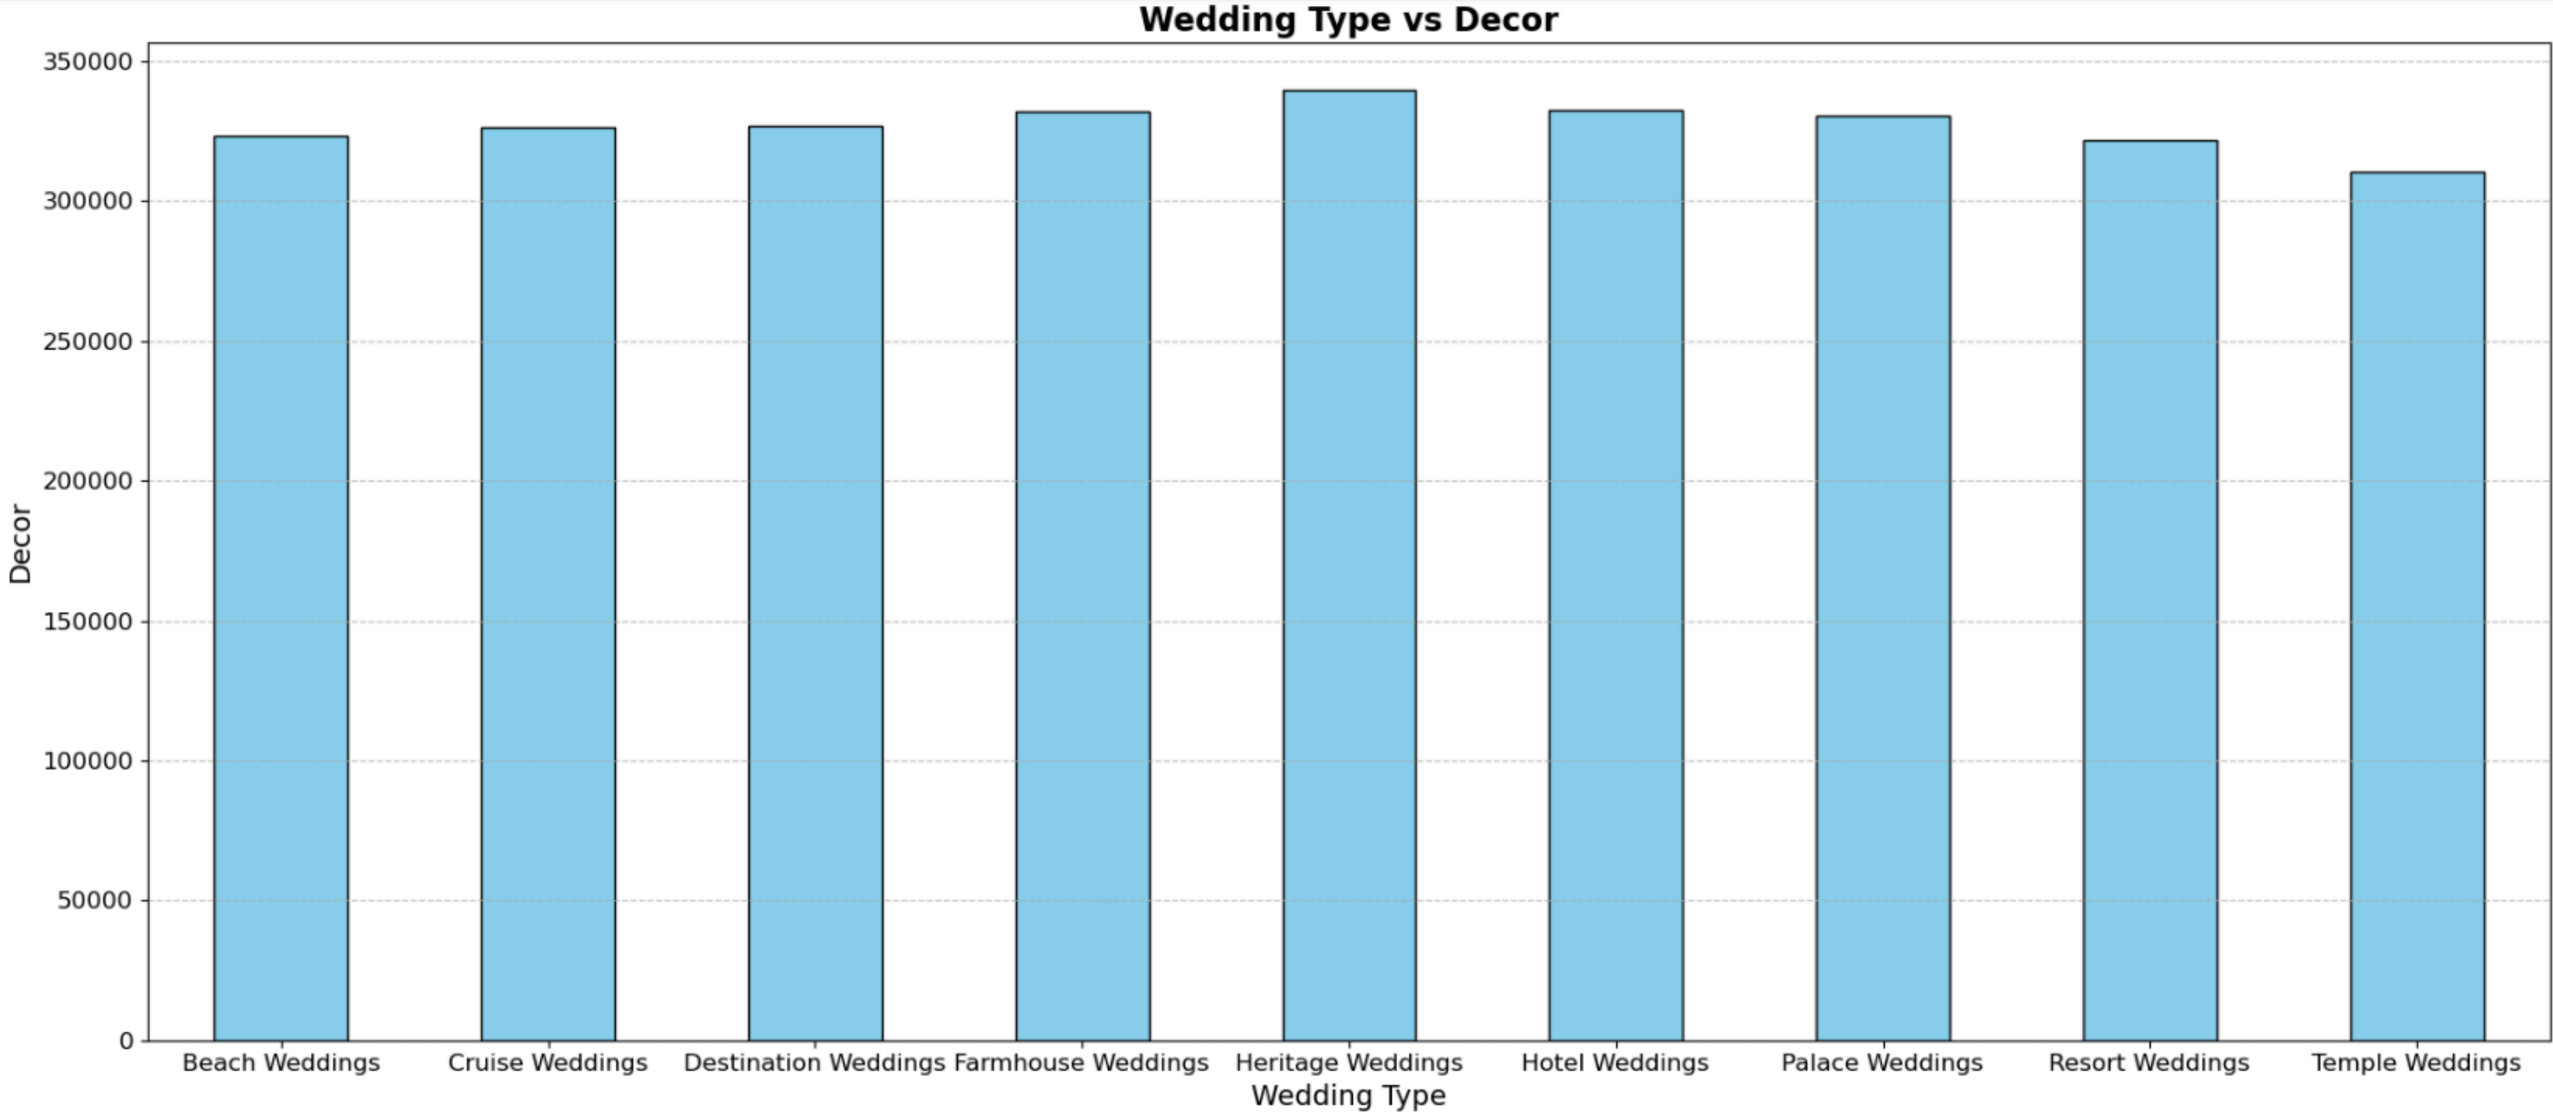
- Cities such as Jaipur, Goa, and Hyderabad fall in the mid-range category, offering a balance between cost and experience.

- Locations like Mumbai and Bangaram Island show comparatively lower costs, indicating more budget-friendly or controlled spending options.

- Overall, location has a moderate impact on wedding cost, but the variation is not extreme, suggesting that other factors like decor and luxury services play a bigger role in total expenses.

CODON'S

Average Decor Cost Across Different Wedding Types



- Decor costs are relatively consistent across all wedding types, mostly ranging between 310K to 340K, indicating a stable spending pattern.

- Heritage Weddings have the highest decor cost, reflecting their premium and luxurious nature.

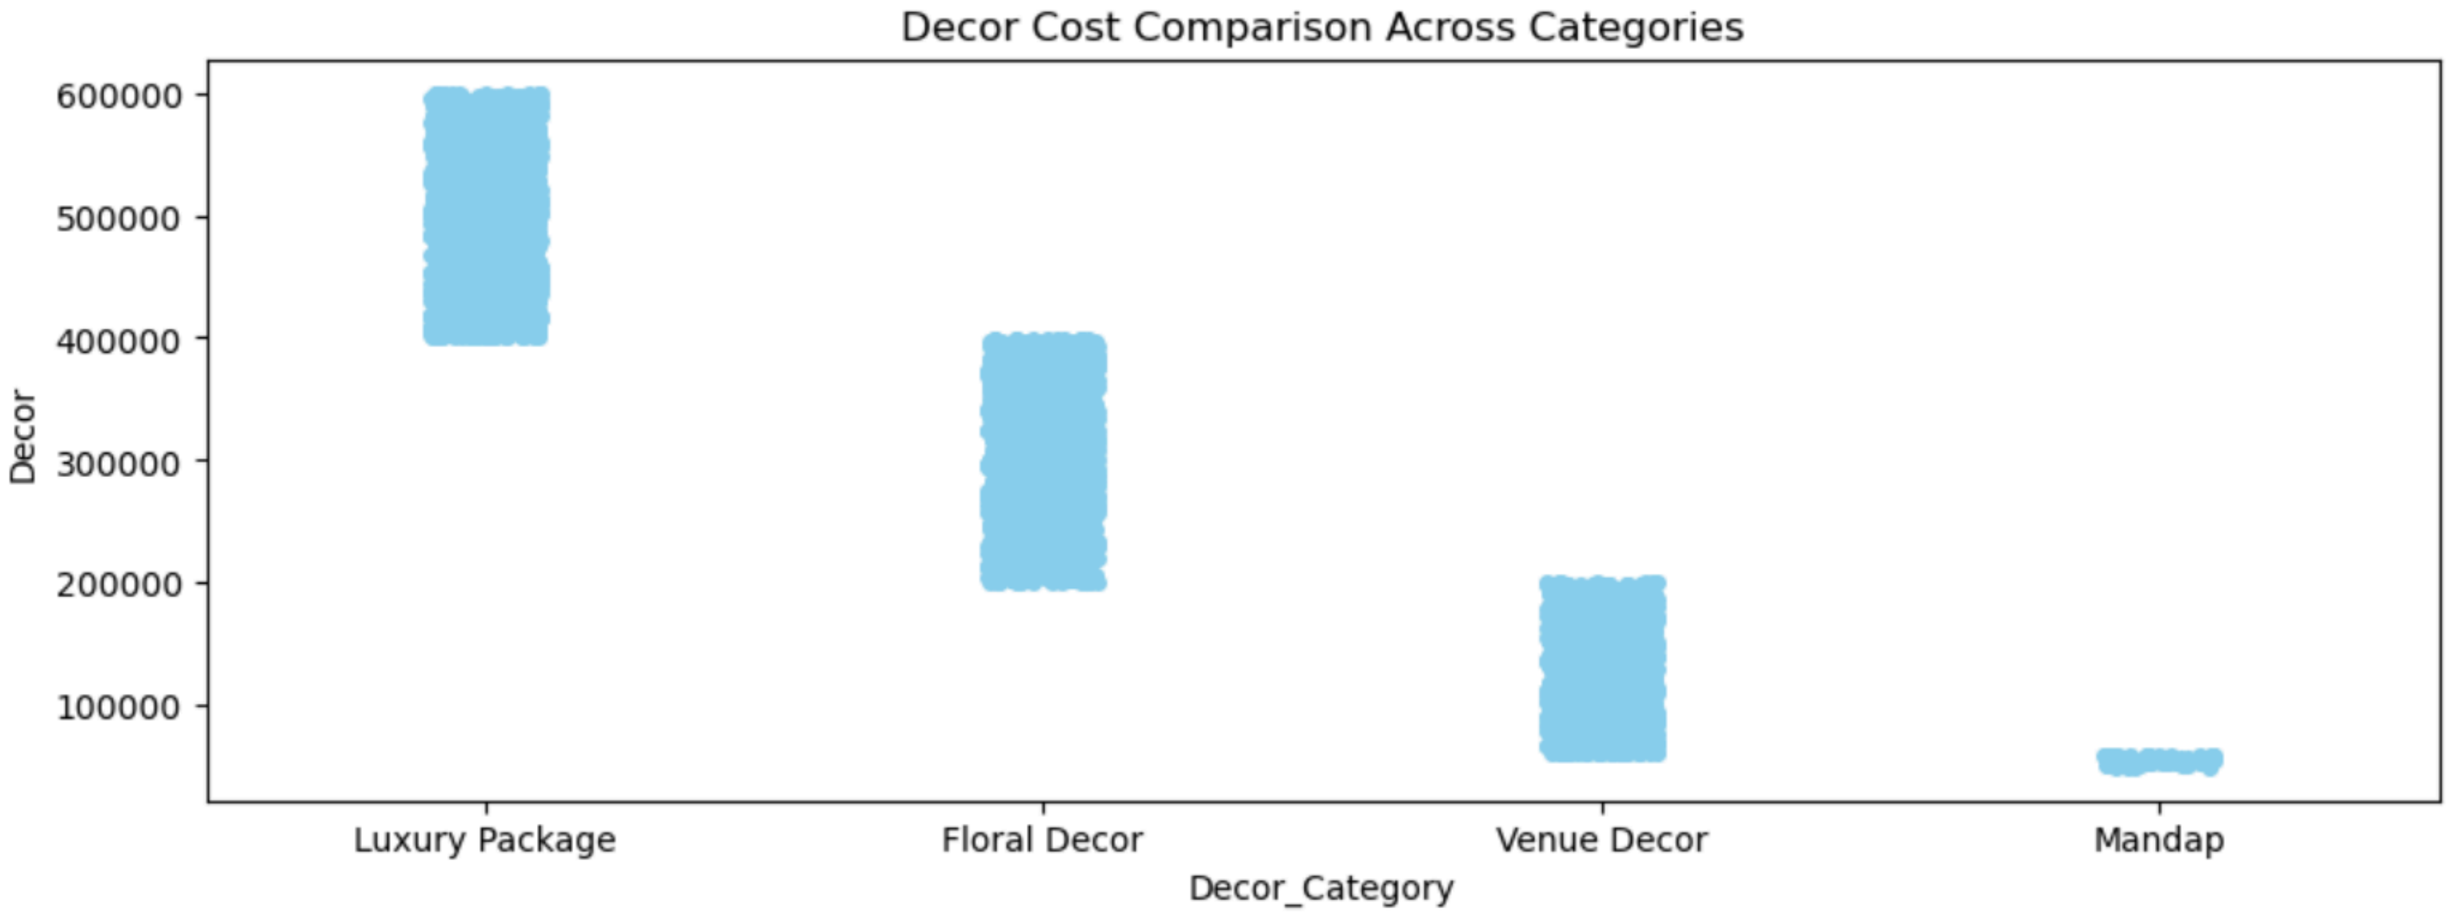
- Palace and Farmhouse Weddings also show slightly higher decor expenses, suggesting a focus on aesthetic and grand setups.

- Temple and Resort Weddings have comparatively lower decor costs, indicating simpler and more budget-conscious arrangements.

- Overall, decor spending does not vary drastically by wedding type, suggesting that decor is a necessary and consistently valued component across all weddings.

CODON'S

Decor Cost Comparision Across Categories



- Luxury Package has the highest decor cost among all categories, ranging significantly higher than others, indicating that premium and all-inclusive decor services dominate overall expenses.

- Floral Decor falls in the mid-to-high range, showing that flower arrangements are a major contributor to wedding decor costs.

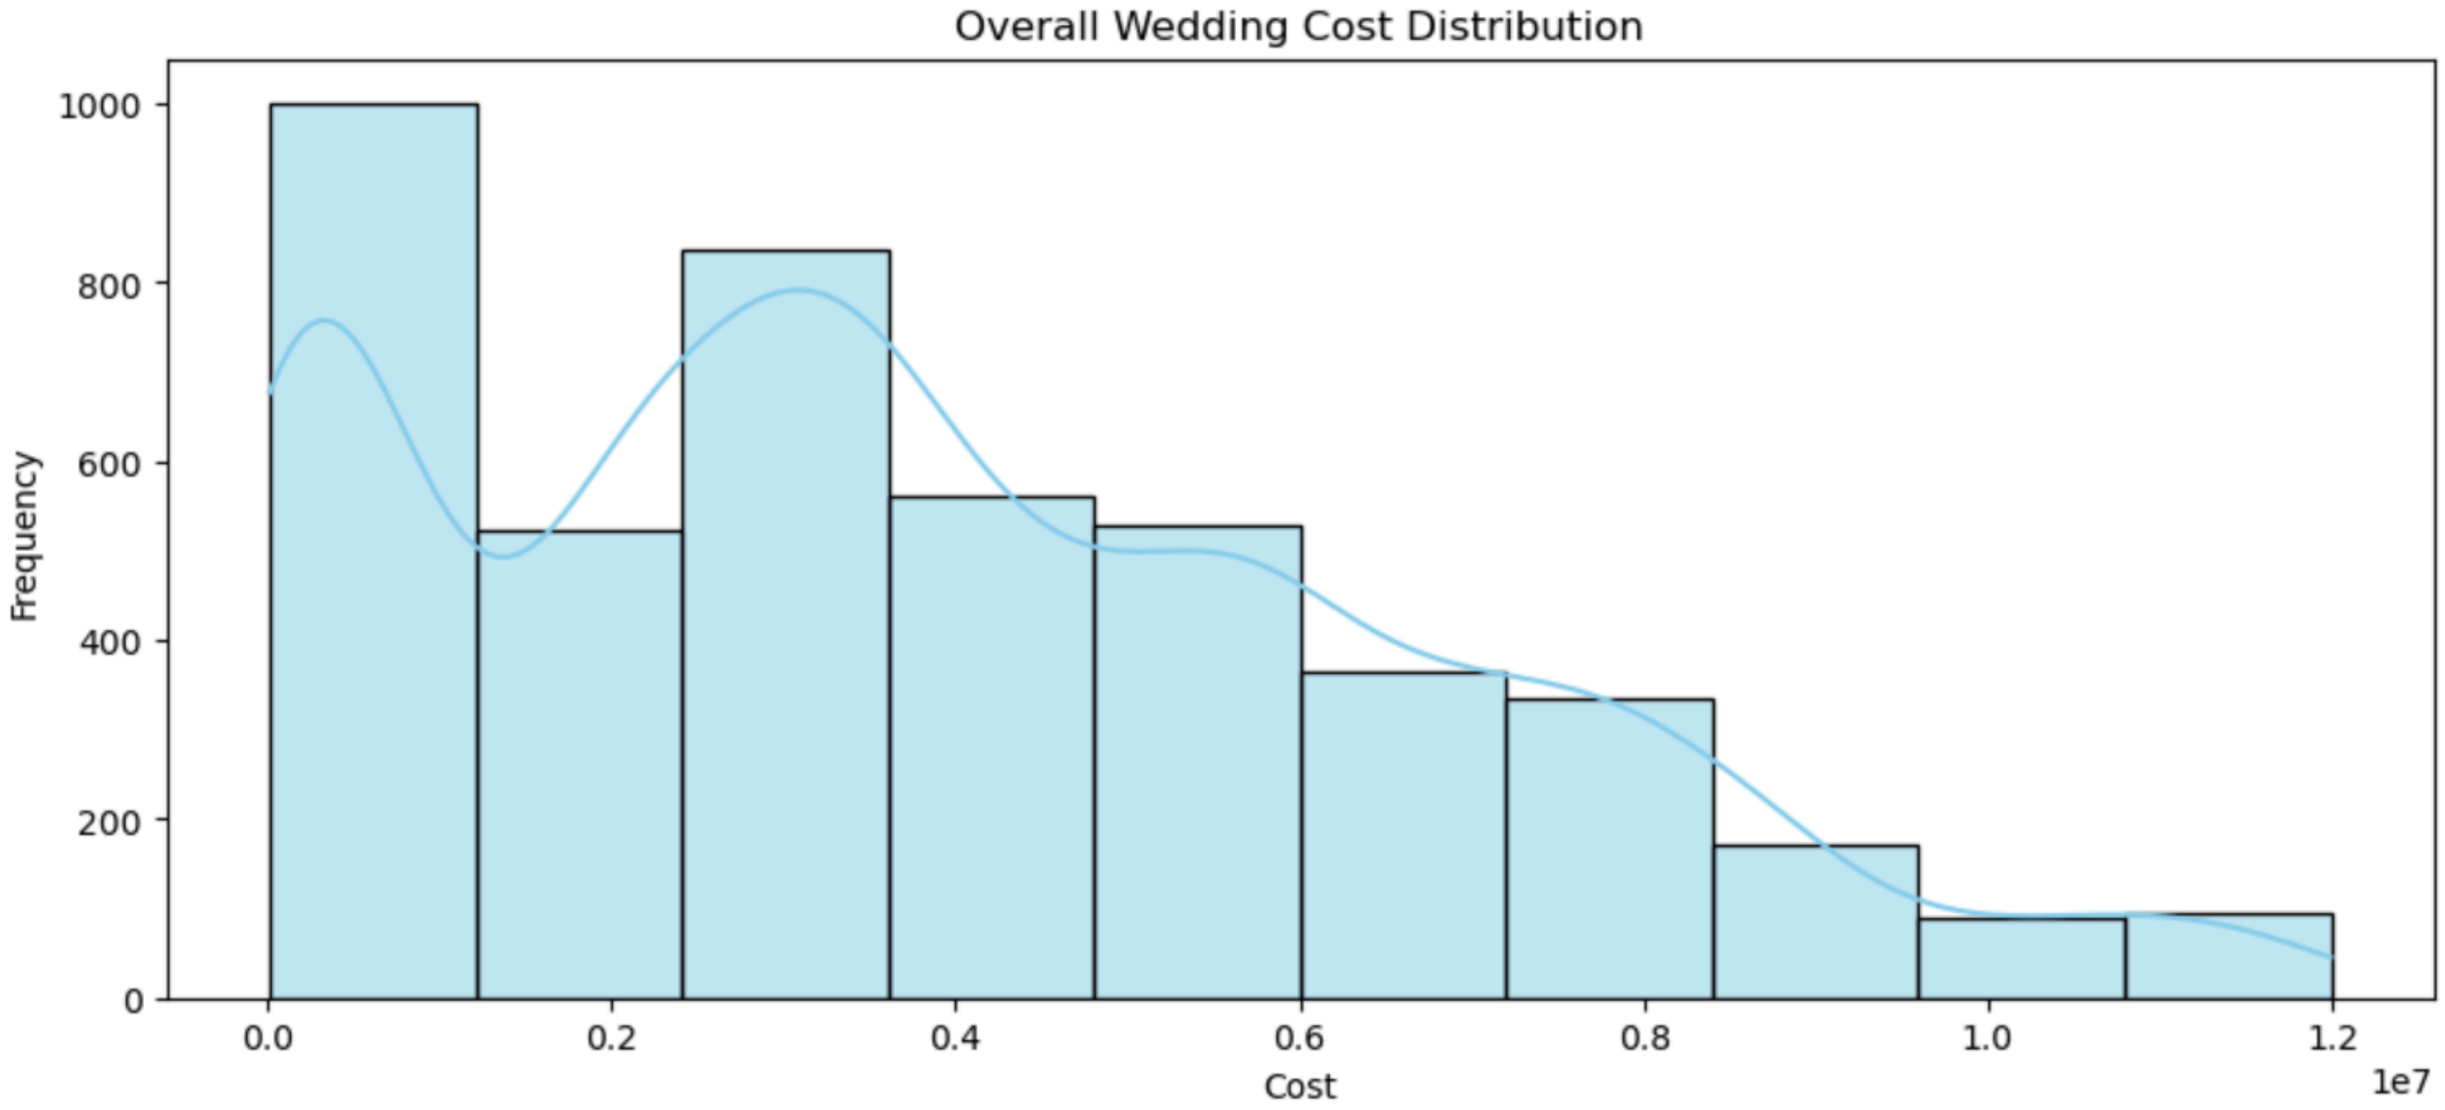
- Venue Decor has moderate costs, suggesting essential decoration elements like lighting and setup are necessary but less expensive than luxury additions.

- Mandap has the lowest cost among all categories, indicating it is a basic and comparatively affordable component of wedding decor.

- Overall, the majority of decor spending is driven by luxury and aesthetic enhancements rather than essential elements.

CODON'S

Shows How Costs Are Spread



₹2M – ₹5M (Mid-Range Segment)

- This is the most balanced and commonly chosen range
- People in this category aim for a good experience while controlling expenses
- Includes standard decor, decent venues, and moderate entertainment

₹5M – ₹8M (Premium Segment)

- Fewer weddings compared to mid-range, but still significant
- Reflects higher spending on decor, destination venues, and better services
- Often includes resort or destination weddings

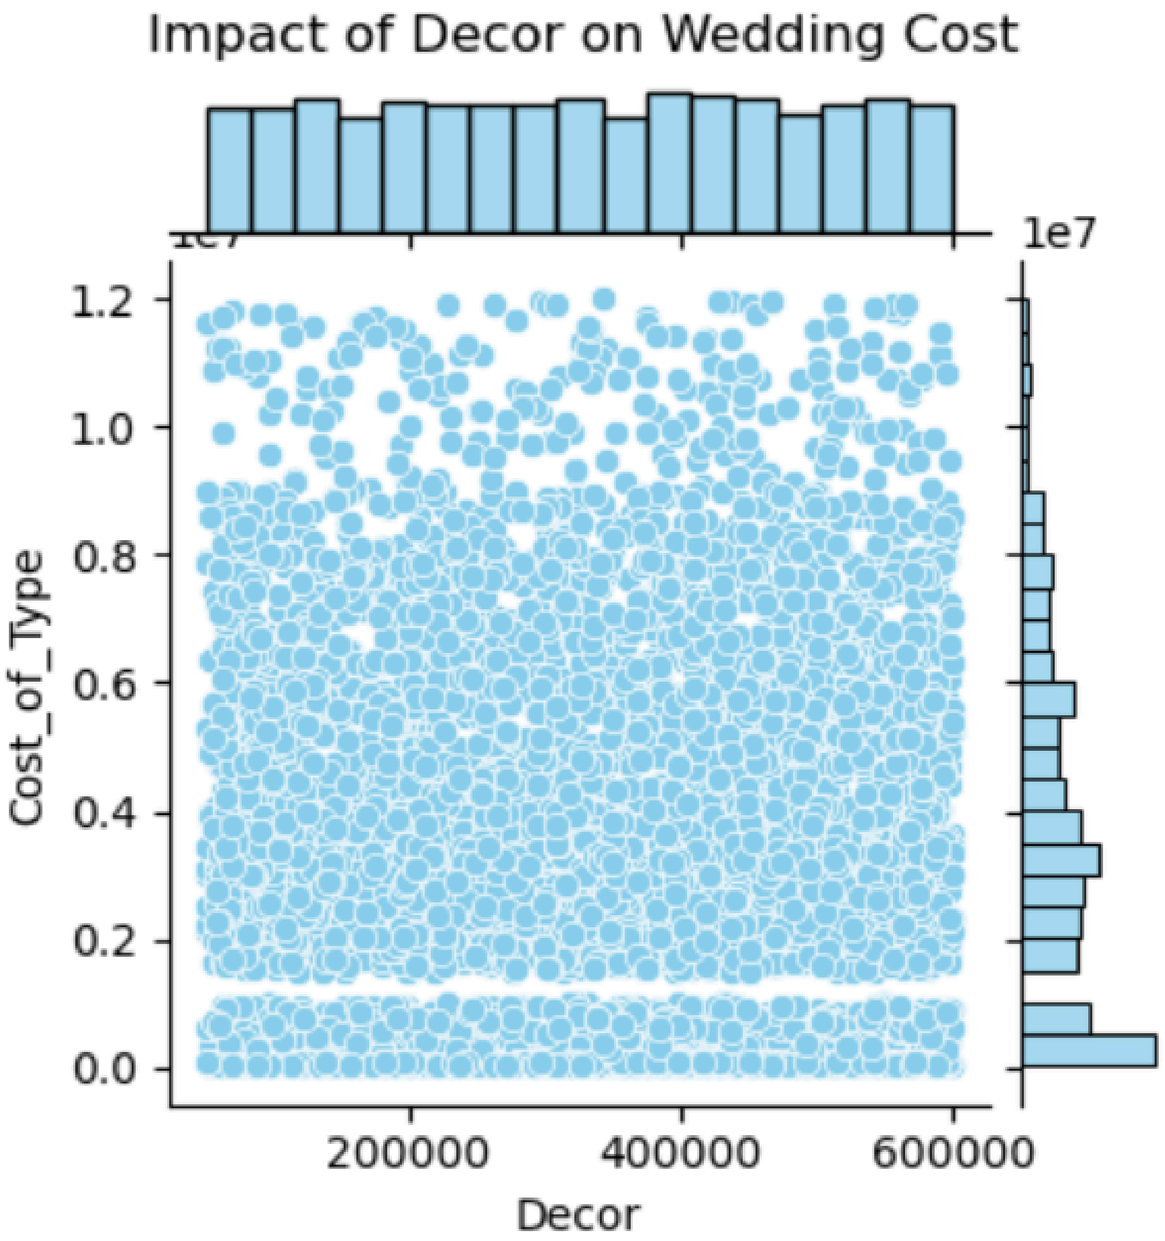
₹8M – ₹12M (Luxury Segment)

- Very low frequency, showing limited number of such weddings
- Represents high-end weddings with premium locations (palace, heritage), celebrity entertainment, and luxury arrangements
- These weddings greatly increase the overall cost spread

CODON'S

Role Of Decor in Determining Wedding Cost

- Positive trend: As decor cost increases, overall wedding cost also increases
- Wide spread: Same decor cost can still lead to different total costs (other factors matter)
- Higher decor = premium weddings (luxury setups, themes, venues)
- Decor plays a major role in increasing wedding cost, but it is not the only factor affecting the total budget.



Conclusion

- Wedding costs vary based on type and location, but overall trends remain consistent.
- Luxury weddings such as Heritage and Palace types tend to have higher costs.
- Decor, especially luxury packages, is a major contributor to total expenses.
- Location has moderate impact, while decor and additional services influence costs more significantly.
- Overall, higher customization and luxury elements lead to increased wedding expenses.

CODON'S

THANK YOU

CODON'S